On “E-Content Creation Using Moodle”

Date: 18th March, 2026

A Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on “E-Content Creation Using Moodle” was successfully conducted on 18th March, 2026 at Shillong College. The programme was organized by the Learning Management System (LMS) Committee in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) and the Department of Computer Science & Applications.

The programme commenced with an inaugural session held in the Principal’s Conference Hall. The session set the tone for the day, highlighting the importance of digital tools and e-content development in modern education.

Following the inaugural function, a hands-on training session was conducted in the Computer Science & Applications Laboratory. The training aimed to equip faculty members with practical skills in creating and managing digital learning resources.

The FDP included two major technical sessions:

- Session 1: Faculty members were introduced to the use of NotebookLM for creating study materials. The session demonstrated how to generate and organize content in multiple formats, including text, video, and audio, thereby enhancing the teaching-learning process.
- Session 2: The second session focused on the use of Moodle as a Learning Management System. Participants were trained on how to create courses, develop structured content, and upload various learning resources effectively on the platform.

The programme was highly interactive and provided valuable hands-on experience to the participants. Faculty members actively engaged in the sessions and gained practical knowledge that will support them in integrating e-content into their teaching practices.

The FDP concluded with a vote of thanks and a presentation of certificate to the resource person and the participants.
